Friday Trash Pickup Moves to Wednesday Next Week

Waco, Texas (June 27, 2014) – Waco citizens whose normal trash collection day is Friday will need to put their trash on the curb for collection next Wednesday, July 2. Next Friday, July 4 is a City of Waco holiday, meaning city offices will be closed and Solid Waste Services will not run collection routes. Again, next week's FRIDAY trash collection will take place two days early, on WEDNESDAY.

The change in schedule is very unusual since Friday customers rarely have their trash day moved (Monday's are most common, and these customers know that their trash will be picked up two days later).

The City's trash "makeup day" is always Wednesday, so getting Friday's customers to know to put their trash out two days EARLY, when they almost never have a change, is unusual. If they miss their collection this Wednesday, it will be a week from this Friday before their trash will be collected again.

Note to Media: Anything you can do to get the word out will be greatly appreciated – thank you!*
