WINDOW UNVEILING AT THE EAST WACO LIBRARY Entitled “Celebrate African American Voices”

WACO, TEXAS (September 6, 2022) – The East Waco Library is hosting a Window Unveiling at the East Waco Library (901 Elm Ave.) on Thursday, September 8th at 10:30 a.m. The window display is to highlight the rich history of East Waco and the African American community. Public libraries preserve and archive local history, highlighting those who helped change and grow our communities. This display is one way we as a community learn about and celebrate Waco’s heritage.

Seven individuals were chosen to be a part of the window display, which represents contributions to civic leadership, education, arts/entertainment, sports, politics, science/medicine, and economic engagement. Window graphics with each person are visible from Elm Ave. and pamphlets with additional information are available inside the library. Over 30 individuals are also included in the rotating digital sign inside the library.

The people represented were chosen by a committee. The committee established criteria and made the final decisions for inclusion in the display.
