Night at the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum... Night at the Museum-Style

WACO, TX (August 28, 2019) – The City of Waco’s Municipal Information Department continues to develop new, innovative ways to educate the public about the operations of the City by creating fun public service announcements (PSA’s).

In keeping with their movie-themed promo videos like “IT”, “The Matrix”, “Top Gun” and “Back to the Future”, the creative staff of the Municipal Information Department produced a mini-movie promoting one of Waco’s treasures, the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum,...Night at the Museum-style! The four-minute video was produced all in-house with no outside costs with a few volunteers and City staff members (even some retirees).

It can be found on the Waco City Cable Channel’s YouTube Channel, along with all other PSA’s, or directly on YouTube at:

This year, the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum ranked #8 for 2019 in True West magazine, the leading international western American history magazine.

The article also notes the museum’s 55 years of service with 4.5 million visitors and its service to the remarkable story of America’s oldest state law enforcement agency.
